

VISITING THE DAYMANIAT ISLAND NATURE RESERVE

WHILE YOU ARE HERE...

Respect the wildlife

Do not touch any of the wildlife or surroundings including fish, turtles, whalesharks and any cute looking corals or sea anemone. Some marine life can feel threatened by your fingers and hands, especially if you get too close. Keep your hands to yourself and be wary of picking up and touching things

Do not go on the beach during May to October, this is peak nesting season for turtles and birds

Wear your rash vest, shorts and hat to protect you from the sun or choose an eco friendly suncream that doesn't damage the corals

Do not snorkel or dive alone

Enjoy your visit!

WHEN YOU LEAVE...

Pick up plastic waste from the ground to prevent it ending up in the ocean

Stop using any single use plastics at home and while you are out and about

Conserve energy and use water wisely

Use sustainably managed businesses and support your local economy
